

GEORGIA PALMER DELEGATES WIN SECOND ROUND

Democrats Roar Might Tribute to Wilson

TRIBUTE SPEEDED TO WHITE HOUSE FROM GOLDEN GATE

The National Convention Flings Aside Business for a Time in Order to Voice Appreciation of Party Chief.

FOR MANY MINUTES THE GREAT HALL WAS ROCKED BY DEMONSTRATION FOR THE PRESIDENT—KEYNOTE SPEECH OF CUMMINGS ALSO BROUGHT SHOUTS OF APPROVAL.

San Francisco, June 28.—From the shadow of the Golden Gate the hosts of democracy sent a roaring tribute across the country to President Wilson.

The national convention flung aside for the moment the business before it, while delegates carried on a demonstration that swept the great gathering off its feet. It was a half hour before the outburst, evoked by a sudden display of the president's portrait, could be stilled.

Arrangements for the first national political convention to be held in the far west had been well made. The great hall, its clean architectural lines almost unmarred by added decorations, was ready and through a dozen wide entries thousands poured in with little delay or confusion.

Below a forest standards bearing the names of states and territories was the only reminder of national conventions of the past.

Perched high beside the organ in a special gallery a military band whistled away the time.

As the noon hour and the opening time approached, a color guard of marines appeared on the platform. A six-foot sergeant with the gleaming folds of a regimental flag in his hand, made a vivid spot of color on the platform. At his side stood the armed non-commissioned officers of the color guard and with them two marine buglers.

When Vice Chairman Kremer, of the national committee, gave the signal, a bugler sounded "attention," the sharp, staccato call rang out over the uproar of the convention.

Baptists to Pass On the Marriage Of Mary and Doug

Buffalo, N. Y., June 28.—Whether the Northern Baptist convention will frown upon the marriage of divorced persons by refusing to elect the Rev. J. W. Brougher, of Los Angeles, as a member of the executive committee, will not be known until tomorrow.

New York, June 28.—The billion-dollar campaign of the Interchurch World movement has been abandoned, it was announced today, following a meeting of the executive committee. OIL INSPECTION FEES OF GEORGIA UPHELD BY COURT

Validity of Law Is Sustained in Opinion Handed Down by Two U. S. District Judges.

$600,000 IS INVOLVED IN INCOME TO GEORGIA

Injunction Denied "As to Oils Imported for Indefinite Storage or for Sale After Breaking Original Package."

A victory for the state was won in the decision handed down yesterday by the United States district court in the case of the Texas Oil company against J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture, et al., involving the validity of oil inspection laws of Georgia.

The opinion of the court was written by Judge Sibley, of the Northern district of Georgia, and concurred in by Judge Beverly D. Evans, of the Southern district.

The plaintiff sought to enjoin the collection of oil fees by the commissioner of agriculture and his assistants on the ground that the law requiring it was a tax on interstate commerce in violation of the constitution of the United States.

It was not contended by the state attorneys that the state had a right to levy a tax on oil or gasoline consigned to a Georgia consumer and received by him in the original package, but it was urged that the interstate commerce act of the shipment ceased when the oil was stored or resold.

Accordingly the court held that the importations of the petitioner are definitely stored within the state, or are resold there after the original packages, are subject to tax imposed so soon as the interstate transportation of them is ended.

The Georgia constitution forbids no form of taxation generally permissible, but only requires specified uniformities. The form of taxation by excessive fees or so-called inspection of many articles has long been resorted to for revenue. Many public officers have been put on salaries and their fees which exceed their salaries turned into the treasury.

McAdoo, Fleeing From Politics, Stops His Phone

Man, Who May Be Next President, Is in Complete Confinement at His Huntington Home, Refusing to Be Disturbed.

Huntington, L. I., June 28.—This summer resort town is all a-flutter over the presence of a man who may be the democratic party's candidate for the presidency, William G. McAdoo, who has quietly moved into the former home of William Faversham, the actor.

"Close friends" of McAdoo, speaking with seeming authority, declared him absolutely indifferent to the actions of the democratic convention and said he would not become a candidate "under any circumstances." It was thought useless for the former secretary of the treasury himself to issue another denial of candidacy, however.

It was said that in coming to Huntington McAdoo sought a much-needed rest and relief from public affairs. He is said to have no direct communication with San Francisco and to be getting his information from the papers.

Watchman Stands Guard. McAdoo has a telephone, but the bell is silent, by a handkerchief because he has determined not to be bothered by political doings.

Most of what I say to you is not for publication," the president's spokesman said, raising a warning finger. "We'll check things over if you agree not to publish what I say in confidence."

After a confidential chat, then, McAdoo said he preferred to learn the convention's activities as other private citizens would. He declined an offer to furnish him special advice.

It was very important development takes place at the convention may I communicate with you?" he was asked.

McAdoo came out and sat on his doorstep beside his visitor, ignoring the pillowed swings and rockers on the porch.

Now, then, what on your mind?" he asked.

The visitor asked McAdoo whether, regardless of his statement that he is not a candidate, he would accept the nomination if it fell his way.

McAdoo said he would not answer the question, but he would not be disturbed.

WILSON FORCES WILL DOMINATE ABOUT PLATFORM

Carter Glass, Who Represents President's Views, Is Unanimously Chosen Chairman of Committee on Resolutions.

ROBINSON IS CHOSEN CONVENTION CHAIRMAN

Selection of Glass and Robinson Mean That Administration Forces Are in Absolute Control of Situation.

San Francisco, June 28.—By the unopposed choice of Senator Glass, of Virginia, as chairman of the resolutions committee, which will draft the platform of the democratic national convention, and the selection of Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, for permanent chairman of the convention, administration forces demonstrated tonight that they were in complete control of the convention machinery.

Any plank which William J. Bryan may desire to have inserted in the platform and which fail to pass approval of the resolutions committee will, therefore, have to be brought into the convention with the endorsement of only a minority report.

Senator Robinson is accounted a thorough-going administration man and he will be wielding the gavel when any attacks are made on the administration program.

These two developments, demonstrating the control of the administration forces, while not lessening the chances of a fight on the floor of the convention were pointed out by the administration forces as evidence that they had the convention in hand and in support of their predictions that they would carry it through to the end.

Colby on Resolutions. Colby, an acknowledged administration spokesman, got a place on the subcommittee of nine, which will draft the platform, while William J. Bryan did not get a place on the drafting committee, was pointed out as the fact that the administration forces were in full control.

Secretary Colby admittedly will represent President Wilson's views on the league of nations plank.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, was unanimously reelected by the committee on permanent organization tonight for the permanent chairmanship of the convention.

Other temporary officers of the convention were recommended by the committee to continue their duties as permanent officers.

Senator Robinson was placed in nomination by Mrs. W. McDougall of Oklahoma, and his nomination was seconded by all the states and then made unanimous.

The committee decided to recommend the addition of an associate secretary of the convention to the list of officers and E. E. Britton, of North Carolina, private secretary to Secretary Daniels, was chosen for that office.

Pledge of Fealty Wired to Wilson

The adoption of great progressive measures of immeasurable value and benefit to the people of the United States.

"As the commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States he has led the patriotic forces of his country through the most momentous struggle in history and without check, reverse or retardation, to an honorable part in the immortal victory for liberty and democracy, won by the free nations of the world.

"We deeply resent the malignant onset which you have most undeservedly been called upon to sustain from partisan foes, whose judgment is warped and whose perceptions are obscured by a party malice, which constitutes a lamentable and disgraceful page in our history.

"At this moment, when the delegates to this convention from every state in the union are about to enter upon their formal proceedings, we pause to send an expression of cheer and admiration and of congratulation.

"We rejoice and felicitate you upon your speedy recovery from your recent illness and congratulate America that though temporarily broken in body that you have been able with unclouded vision and undaunted courage to press on for the great reforms which you have fostered for the preservation of peace throughout the world in the interest of humanity and the advancement of civilization. Long may you live to serve America and the world."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE FRIENDS TO PUSH FIGHT IN SENATE

John W. Bale, Former Arch Foe of Movement, Changes Mind and Sends Wire to Dorris.

WAGING LOSING FIGHT, HE SAYS IN MESSAGE

Friends of woman suffrage in the senate had not abandoned the fight last night, in spite of the defeat administered to them at the morning session. A surprise will be sprung upon the opposing forces this morning in the shape of a telegram from John W. Bale, speaker pro tem. and chairman of the house constitutional amendments committee last session, to Senator Dorris.

Mr. Bale was one of the bitterest of the opponents of suffrage last year, going so far as to vote to deny the women the right to be heard, on the ground that his committee had already made up their minds. Now Mr. Bale finds that he had not made up his own mind, and from a point in Wyoming, where he is stationed in the Indian service of the government, he sends the following urgent wire to Senator Dorris:

"Waging Losing Fight." "Hon. W. H. Dorris, Senate Chamber, Atlanta, Ga.: I yield to none my allegiance to old-time democratic principles, yet, after personal investigation, I am convinced we are fighting a losing fight in further opposing the suffrage amendment. It is foolish to kick against the pricks when a great advantage can be obtained by the adoption of great progressive measures of immeasurable value and benefit to the people of the United States.

"We rejoice in the recovery of your health and strength after months of suffering and affliction which you have borne with courage and without complaint."

SEATED, 43 TO 4, BY COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS

This Action Puts Palmer Delegates on Permanent Roll—Not Known Whether Watson-Smith Men Will Appeal to the Convention.

DEAN AND PERSONS HEARD BY COMMITTEE

They Presented the Case for Palmer Delegates. San Francisco Papers Are Featuring Some Threats by the Watson-Smith Men.

Auditorium, San Francisco, June 28.—The credentials committee seated the delegates from Georgia headed by Clark Howell and pledged to Attorney General Palmer, by a vote of 43 to 4.

H. H. Dean, counsel for the Palmer delegation, said he would not discuss the fight from the standpoint of democracy, for every member of each delegation was hand-picked. He declared there was not a delegate of either group not "bound to the wishes of their respective leaders, and he said he had no exegesis to make.

"Right or there," Dean said, pointing to the audience, "sit fifty-six men, just exactly half of them for Tom Watson, and the other half for Hoke Smith. There's not a Palmer man among them, and they wouldn't let him in there."

Dean's speech was punctuated by accusations from members of the opposition factions. He was asked whether the Palmer supporters had not been offered "their share of the delegation," and replied:

"That's the point. You offered a compromise and wanted to pack the other two-thirds of the delegation with Smith-Watson men. That wasn't all. You men were all set to put the unit rule on us and vote us the way you wanted to—pretty fine."

Other persons the second speaker for the seated delegation, told the committee that "we Georgians have had a big family quarrel, and we assume that what you want to know is whether we played the game fairly."

He said there was no reason for discussing it from a party standpoint.

"We had a pretty fight, the prettiest you ever laid eyes on," he continued. "We feel that we won legally. We played the game according to our own peculiar rules down here, and we merely ask the committee to compel these other people to abide by the result."

Lauding the League, Cummings Sounds Keynote for Party

No Blacker Crime Against Civilization Than the Defeat of Treaty, He Tells Democratic Convention.

PROPER RESERVATIONS NOT OPPOSED BY WILSON

Cummings Says President Has Always Been Willing to Accept Constructive Amendments. Bitter Reference to Attacks on Wilson.

San Francisco, June 20.—The league of nations covenant was championed as the "Monroe doctrine of the world" by Homer Cummings, temporary chairman of the democratic national convention, in his keynote address here today. Of the peace treaty's defeat in the senate, he said: "No blacker crime against civilization has ever soiled the pages of our history."

He characterized the republican platform as "reactionary and provincial." "Filled with premeditated slanders and vague promises, it will be searched in vain for one constructive suggestion for the reformation of the conditions which it criticizes and deplores," he continued.

"The oppressed peoples of the earth will look to it in vain. It contains no message of hope for Ireland; no word of mercy for Armenia; and it conceals a sword for Mexico. It is the work of men concerned more with material things than with human rights. It contains no thought, no purpose which can give impulse or thrill to those who love liberty and hope to make the world a safer and happier place for the average man."

He declared that the peace time record of the democratic party from March, 1913, to the outbreak of the world war has to its credit "more effective, constructive and remedial legislation than the republican party had placed upon the statute books in a generation."

Administration in War. Praising the administration's course in the war he said: "We fought a great war, for a great cause and we had a leadership that carried America to greater heights of honor and power and glory than she has ever known before in her entire history."

"Let no one misunderstand us. These great affairs were carried forward under the stimulus of American patriotism, supported by the courage and spirit of our people. All this is freely and gladly acknowledged, but surely the time has come when, because of the calculated criticism and premeditated calumnies of the opposition, we are entitled to call attention to the fact that all of these things were accomplished under the leadership of a great democrat and of a great democratic administration. If the republican leaders are not able to rejoice with us in this American triumph they should have the grace to remain silent; for it does not lie in the mouths of those who conducted the Spanish-American war to indulge in the luxury of criticism."

Referring to congressional investigations by "smelling committees," he said that over 80 investigations have been made, over two million dollars wasted and "the result has been to prove that it was the cleanest war ever fought in the history of civilization."

"The republican party became so fixed in its incorrigible habit of conducting its investigations by the method of fraud and graft and gross and inexcusable expenditures. The revelations disclose the fact that the meeting at Chicago was not a convention, but an auction. The highest bidder, however did not get the prize. The publicity which overtook the proceedings frustrated the initial purpose. The Chicago convention left the democratic party as the average man's champion of the honor of the country."

Democratic Party's Peace Work. Peace achievements of the democratic party, he asserted, "dramatized the farmer from the deadening effects of usurious financial control. Labor was given its Magna Charta of liberty, business and finance."

were released from the thrall of uncertainty and hazard."

"The income tax law," he said, "relieved our law of the reproach of being unjustly burdensome to the poor. The extravagances and inequalities of the tax system were removed and a non-partisan tariff commission created. Pan-Americanism was encouraged and the bread thus cast upon the waters came back to us many fold. Alaska was opened up for settlement and development. Dollar diplomacy was destroyed. A corrupt lobby was wiped out, hatelands created. The parcel post and the rural free delivery were developed. A good roads bill and a rural credits act were passed. A secretary of labor was given a seat in the cabinet of the President. The Federal Reserve Bank was created. Child labor legislation was enacted. The Clayton amendment to the Sherman anti-trust act was passed. The Smith-Lever bill for the promotion of agriculture was passed. Federal employment bureaus were created. Farm loan banks, postal savings banks and the federal reserve system were established."

The federal reserve system, passed over the opposition of the leaders of the republican party, enabled America to withstand the strain of war without shock or panic and ultimately made our country the greatest creditor nation of the world."

Turning to the record of the republican congress since 1918, Mr. Cummings said: "Barren of achievement, shameless in waste of time and money, and without regard for the needs of the people, it has failed to accomplish anything of value."

President Wilson's two appeals for congress for legislation dealing with profiteering, reduction of taxation, aid for soldiers and laws to improve relations of capital and labor were ignored, he declared, and "after a year of sterile debate our country has neither peace nor reconstruction."

Attacks on Wilson. He dwelt particularly on attacks made upon the president. Malice followed him to the peace table, he said, and wide spread propaganda made it imperative when he returned from Paris to "make a struggle for the peace which would be at incalculable cost. This meant wreck of health, sickness for months on a bed of pain, and worse, the sickness of heart which comes from the knowledge that political adversaries are savagely defaming the peace which is the work of men's hands, but the world's hope of settled peace. This was the affliction—the crucifixion."

Mr. Cummings continued that in one sense "it is quite immaterial whether we say about the president. Nothing we can say can add or detract from the fame that will live in the unending channels of history."

He cited the republican and progressive platforms of 1916 as proof of the record placing this country in favor of the league of nations.

The republican platform contains a vague promise to establish another or a different form of association, he said. "There is no mental dishonesty more transparent than that which expresses fear of a league of nations while proposing the only league that exists or is ever apt to exist."

"What stand outside? Revolutionary Mexico, bolshevism, Russia, unspeakable Turkey, and the United States."

"It is not yet too late. Let us stand with the forces of civilization. Let us choose the path of peace. Let us stand with the democratic party's support of the league of nations, with its program of peace, disarmament and world fraternity, and the republican party's platform of repudiation, provincialism, militarism and world chaos."

It is not reservations that the president stands against, said Mr. Cummings, but nullification. He told how President Wilson had published the tentative text of the league covenant widely in 1918, asking for criticism and receiving suggestions from Taft, Hughes and others that were "actually incorporated into the revised draft of the league."

Lodge Was Intolerant. Senator Lodge, he said, refused to offer constructive amendments at any time. "So intolerant was his attitude that he would not even consider a compromise proposed by former President Taft of his own party and which was assured of support of 40 democratic senators. Senator Lodge knew that he controlled the senate and that in his own time and way he would destroy the treaty."

"This is the sordid story of its defeat," said Cummings, after reviewing the senate's action in the matter. "No blacker crime against civilization has ever soiled the pages of our history. The last chapter of our history, Chicago."

The true purpose of our party he clearly understood, he said in concluding his address. "We stand squarely for the same ideals of peace as those for which the war was fought. We support without flinching the only feasible plan for peace and justice. We will not submit to the repudiation of the peace treaty or to any process by which it is whittled down to the vanishing point. We declare our compromise our principles or pawn our immortal souls for selfish purposes. We do not turn our backs upon the history of the last three years. We seek no avenue of retreat. We insist that the forward course is the only righteous course. We seek to re-establish the fruits of victory, to renege the good faith of our country and to restore it to its rightful place among the nations of the earth. Our cause constitutes a summons to duty. The heart of America aches again. The ancient faith revives. The immortal part of man speaks for us. The services of the past, the sacrifices of war, the hopes of the future, constitute a spiritual force gathering about our banners. We shall release again the checked forces of civilization and America shall take up once more the leadership of the world."

CONFIDENCE IS VOTED IN WAGE LABOR BOARD

Resolutions endorsing William G. McAdoo as the democratic nominee for the presidency, expressing full confidence in the federal wage labor board, and in Attorney General Palmer, were features of the meeting Monday night of the Federal Shopkeepers' Union in the Labor temple.

The meeting was called primarily for the purpose of endorsing a resolution calling for a strike of the shopkeepers on July 20, but this resolution was unanimously voted down, and instead the gathering resolved to put full confidence in the decision of the federal wage labor board.

After the adoption of this resolution, resolutions were introduced endorsing the action of Attorney General Palmer in his fight on profiteers. A vote was then taken to arrive at the shopkeepers' choice for president on the democratic ticket, when W. B. McAdoo was declared the first choice, the organization wired a message of the endorsement to the democratic convention at Frisco.

for sale after breaking the original package."

Inasmuch as practically all of the oils inspected by the state are stored here for resale and held at the distributing agencies of the shippers in storage, the effect of the decision, as it stands, will be not to appreciably diminish the revenue of the state from this source.

An appeal will be taken at once to the supreme court of the United States, but it may be several years before a final decision can be reached.

Judge Walker, dissenting, says: "I am unable to find any basis in the provisions of the statute in questions to conclude that it is anything but an inspection measure. The fees prescribed cannot well be considered as exacted for anything but inspection where nothing is required but inspection and payment for it. The statute is materially different from that passed upon in the New Mexico case. The statute there in question was held to impose a tax on the privilege of dealing in gasoline in New Mexico. It did not require any inspection of gasoline. To sustain the statute to the extent in the foregoing opinion requires the affirmation of the proposition that, as to imported goods, which, with intent to use or sell them, have been removed from the original package without shock or damage, are brought into a state, a charge of inspection grossly in excess of the expenses involved may be exacted as the price of such goods becoming the subject of lawful use and disposition in the state."

The tax charged in Georgia is one-half cent per gallon for lots exceeding 400 gallons and a larger fee for smaller lots.

MOTOR TRANSPORT CONVOY TO ARRIVE HERE WEDNESDAY

Notice has been received by Jack Lewis, who is in charge of the reception of the United States motor transport convoy, which is making the Bankhead tour from Washington to Los Angeles, that the convoy will arrive in the city tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock and that the parade will be held shortly after its entry in Atlanta.

It is understood that the original plans for one day's stay in Atlanta have been changed on orders from the war department and that a lay-over of about ten days will be made. The officers of the convoy are due for various examinations and the officers and men will be held here while they get them completed, according to a statement made by Mr. Lewis.

Put Your Own Self on the Pay Roll

Pay Day is at hand with its joys and sorrows.

The butcher, the baker and all the rest of them will have to be pacified. No use to quibble and fuss—the bills must be met.

The man or woman, boy or girl, who is not paying something to HIMSELF or HERSELF these times is making a big mistake.

In other words if you haven't put yourself on the Pay Roll by opening a Savings Account into which you pay something every Pay Day—you lose.

You lose the opportunity to capitalize part of your earnings. You lose the opportunity to make your spare dollars work for you. You lose your chance to save now and spend later.

Just remember: the buying power of your dollar is going to be far bigger in the not-too-distant future than it is now.

Save! Put yourself on the Pay Roll.

TWO years ago a puncture-proof cord tire was unheard of. The public clamored for it; all tire makers tried to build it.

Lee was making the only successful puncture-proof pneumatic fabric tire. Motorists naturally looked to Lee for a puncture-proof cord.

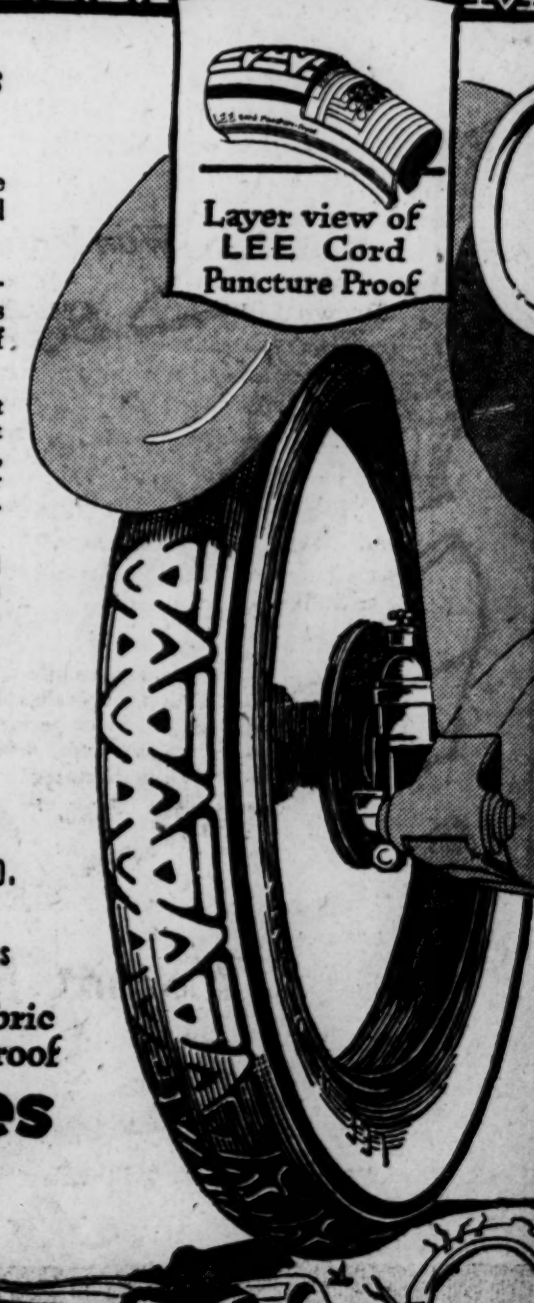

Lee has succeeded in building such a tire. It has all the economy and resiliency of the best cord tires. It practically eliminates blowouts, tread separation, broken sidewalls and other common tire troubles. And it is positively puncture-proof.

For 18 months this tire was cruelly tested before being offered to the public. It rode as lightly and as smoothly as a cord without the puncture-proof feature. It was as economical on fuel and oil. It was easier on tubes. And—outlasted cord tires that were not puncture-proof!

Let us demonstrate the economy of the new Lee Cord Puncture-Proof.

TAX REFORM BILLS TO BE CONSIDERED

H. J. Fullbright Will Urge Acceptance While W. A. Wright Will Stand for Ad Valorem System With Amendments.

The first important public hearing of this year by a legislative committee will be held by the ways and means committee of the house in the representatives' chamber at three o'clock this afternoon, when argument for an against the tax reform bills recommended by the committee on constitutional amendments last year will be presented. State Tax Commissioner H. J. Fullbright will appear before the committee to urge the passage of the bills. Comptroller General Wright will stand for the present ad valorem system which he claims can meet all the needs of the state for revenue if certain amendments are made in the tax equalization law.

The bills were introduced by Mr. Arnold, of Clay, chairman of the ways and means committee, and embody the recommendations of the tax commission of last year. They provide for a departure from the uniform ad valorem system and a classification of property for taxation, some classes being taxed at a higher rate than others.

The highway committee of the house and senate have been invited to attend a meeting of the Georgia Automobile association Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Kimball House to hear suggestions as to the highway problems confronting the legislature.

Rheumatism's Pains Are Always Treacherous

Summer an Excellent Time to Combat the Disease.

Some cases of Rheumatism give very little trouble to their victim during the summer season, and for this reason now is a most favorable time to take a course of treatment that will reach the cause of the trouble and remove it from the system.

Otherwise, with the very first cold, damp or disagreeable day, your pains will return and gradually increase in their severity, until you will soon again be in the clutches of this relentless disease.

Why not begin at once a systematic and sensible attack on the millions of tiny germs which cause your Rheumatism, and forever root them from the system. This is the only way to get rid of the disease, for these germs are in the blood, and cannot be reached by liniments, lotions, and other local treatment.

S. S. S. has proven a splendid remedy for Rheumatism, especially that form of the disease which comes from germs in the blood. Being such a thorough blood purifier and cleanser, it routs the germs from the blood, thus removing the cause of your Rheumatism. S. S. S. is sold by all druggists. Tudor Theater—All week, James Oliver Curwood's "The Courage of Marge O'Doone."

"Courage of Marge O'Doone." (At the Tudor.) "The courage of Marge O'Doone," a screen version of the popular novel by James Oliver Curwood, is the attraction at the Tudor theater for the current week. A clean, live story of love and adventure in the frozen wilderness of the Canadian northwest. Not the least of its exciting episodes, aside from a great fight between two rival bears, is the scene where David Haine and Marge O'Doone, with the aid of Tara, the trained bear, and Horrie, the wolf dog, fight their way out of the nest, the stronghold of smugglers and bandits. The play opens on a trail in the snow of an arctic night and ends with a night encampment and a strange meeting far from civilization. Between the beginning and the end are wonderful adventures and exciting incidents in a land where heroism and danger are a part of the daily routine.

"Suds" (At the Criterion.) Mary Pickford in "Suds," a delightful entertaining comedy, "Edgar Hamlet," taken from the stories by Booth Tarkenton of the adventures of Edgar Hamlet, a boy who is kidnapped by a gang of clever children, is the program at the Criterion theater this week. In "Suds" Mary Pickford plays the role of a girl who is kidnapped by a gang of clever children, is the program at the Criterion theater this week. In "Suds" Mary Pickford plays the role of a girl who is kidnapped by a gang of clever children, is the program at the Criterion theater this week.

"Fugitive From Matrimony." (At the Lyric.) "A fugitive from matrimony," with H. B. Warner in the leading role, and the attraction at the Lyric theater is a society drama and provides the distinguished actor with a part similar to the characterizations which have won him fame on the speaking stage. As a breezy, whimsical young American, who flees from matrimony as from a plague, Warner is in his element. The notable comic actor supports Mr. Warner in "A Fugitive From Matrimony." In the role of a girl who is kidnapped by a gang of clever children, is the program at the Criterion theater this week.

Keith Vaudeville. (At the Lyric.) If all the acts on the new Keith vaudeville bill at the Lyric were as good as the thrilling comedy gymnastic exhibition with which the Herbert Trio close the show, the program would be an absolute "bum-bumper." Which doesn't mean that the show isn't a good one, for it is in many particulars. It does mean, however, that the exhibition of the Herbert Trio is just about the greatest acrobatic turn Atlanta has ever seen—a blending of real comedy, clean stunts and daring stunts.

There's a noteworthy sketch on the bill, too—"Dope," a comedy.

HOME MISSION BOARD PROGRAM GETS START

Activities have started on the program of work for this year, formulated at the annual meeting of the Baptist home mission board, held here a few days ago. Plans have been made for this year by the different departments of the mission and the leaders expect a harmonious co-operation in carrying out their 1932 program.

The appropriation, approved by the board for department activities which embrace all phases of home mission work for this year, aggregates $2,875,000. This sum greatly exceeds the appropriations for the last two years. With this increase in funds, the home mission work will be enlarged; $200,000 will be set aside from the appropriation for the purpose of church building.

SHOE DEPARTMENT

DORSEY WORKING ON HIS MESSAGE

Document Not Yet Completed, But Will Be Sent to the Legislature Some Time This Week.

With his message not yet completed owing to the fact that some of the reports of state departments were not yet in his hands, the governor was unable to tell last night just when the document would be sent to the general assembly, but it will go in this week.

It is the governor's intention to deal only with the report of the budget commission, the condition of the state's finances and tax reform in the message which he is preparing to send in new. He regards these matters of so pressing a nature that they should be given precedence in legislative action. Later, when the general assembly has had an opportunity to do some constructive work on these lines, it is expected that he will send the houses another communication dealing with other matters worthy of consideration.

The crisis that is facing all of the state's institutions on account of the inadequacy of their maintenance appropriations makes some affirmative action on the part of the house almost essential to their further functioning. It is expected that the governor will call attention in most emphatic language to this situation and will lay before the lawmakers a straightforward program with which to meet it. It is understood that he will again urge the enactment of the tax reform measures worked out by the mission appointed last year.

He sees no alternative to the adoption of the proposed new tax system, which has been successfully operated in other states, except by taking off the constitutional limitation so as to enable the legislature to raise the tax rate as high as yet, has not been advocated by anybody. The attempt at the revaluation of property for tax assessments has been made, but the advance in assessments has not been drastic enough to begin to keep pace with the growing needs and the fall in the value of the dollar.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE TO PUS HFIGT

surrendering personal views and following the trend of the times. Today Georgia occupies a strategic position in the affairs of democracy.

"May I not therefore suggest that you call a conference of President Olive, Speaker Holder, the chairmen of the constitutional amendment committee and Messrs. Jackson, Wohlwend and Stubbs and Senators Barrett and Flint, and agree on a program for the speedy passage of the suffrage amendment. In my opinion, this will be good politics and good sense. The psychological moment has come, and it is now or never to act as we should. I am first a Georgian, then a democrat, and sincerely believe that Georgia can now render democracy a great political service while the national convention is in session; so, waiving my personal prejudices, in the interest of political expediency I urge that this action be speedily taken. I wire you because of our personal and political friendship and long association in the general assembly."

(Signed) "JOHN W. BAILE."

Message Comes as Surprise.

This message came to Senator Dorris last night as a bolt from the blue. So far from having solicited the assistance of Mr. Baile in the fight for suffrage, he did not even know where the former Floyd representative was, and he would just as soon have thought of calling upon Representative Jackson or Jones to help him as Mr. Baile.

It is not the purpose of the suffrage supporters in the senate to prolong the fight with a filibuster. They have some hope, however, of getting enough of the anti to see the light as Mr. Baile has to induce them to come to the midway ground occupied by Senator Barrett, who, while opposed to the Susan B. Anthony amendment, realizes that suffrage is assured and is seeking to write it into the state constitution.

When Senator Pittman concludes Tuesday his speech begun Monday in favor of the second Barrett bill, it is understood that a motion will be made to table the measure. If it is adopted, an effort will then be made by the advocates of compromise to have the action taken Monday in killing the first Barrett bill by agreeing to the unfavorable committee report reconsidered.

Suffrage Gets Setback.

Suffrage suffered another setback at the hands of the legislature when one of the Barrett bills amending the state constitution was defeated in the senate by a vote of 24 to 19 on a motion to agree to an unfavorable committee report and the second bill was temporarily carried by a filibuster which prolonged the debate to the close of the session. The issue will be again joined today and an effort was being made last night to bring about a compromise by passing the Barrett bills in order to insure negative action on the Susan B. Anthony amendment.

The two bills are companion measures, each amending a different section of the constitution, each requiring a two-thirds vote of both houses for passage. They both strike the word "male" from the suffrage limitations of the constitution so as to extend the vote to women under the same restrictions as are now placed on the male vote in Georgia. They were both introduced in the senate last summer by Senator Fernor Barrett, of the thirty-first.

The first of the two bills came up for passage Monday morning with an unfavorable report of the committee to which it had been referred. No debate was precipitated upon the action on this bill as it was considered a test measure by both sides by which they could judge their strength for the action on the other measure. The motion to agree to the report of the committee which was unfavorable to the passage of the bill was carried by a vote of 24 to 19, and the bill was thereby virtually killed. The roll call on this motion was as follows:

Ayes—Senators Adams, Avers, Bowden, Bussey, Calhoun, Clements, Dixon, Flynn, Fowler, Habin, Hogz, Kea, Keene, Kendall, Kirkland, Le-Supar, Lindner, Prueitt, Reynolds, Rice, Steed, Vickery, Wallace and Watson.

As soon as this bill was killed the companion came up and it was upon this that an effort was made by the friends of the measure to stave off final defeat. Senator H. H. Elders, of the second, who made such a strong plea for woman suffrage last session arose and made a strong appeal to pass the bill which would give the women of Georgia the right to vote.

Senator J. J. Flynn, who was a violent opponent of woman suffrage last year, attacked the Barrett bills Monday. While he did not secure the floor often he interrupted the senators arguing for the bills. He declared that if Georgia passed the bills it would encourage Tennessee to ratify the Susan B. Anthony amendment.

Senator Pittman, of the forty-second, took the floor when Senator Elders finished and argued for the bill until the hour of adjournment. He answered the argument that the women of the state did not want the vote by reading a resolution of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs memorializing the legislature to extend the right of the ballot to the women of the state.

The suffrage question was the only thing touched by the senate Monday night. The session closed Tuesday at 10 o'clock as unfinished business.

Blind Wife Slayer Is Ordered Held On Murder Charge

Macon, Ga., June 28.—(Special.)—The coroner's jury which today investigated the killing of Mrs. C. G. Creason by her blind husband ordered Creason held on a charge of murder, and Coroner Lee Wages issued a warrant making that charge. Creason is now in the Bibb county jail.

Dan Mason, one of the men whom Creason charged with breaking up his home, told the coroner's jury he witnessed the killing. He said he was seated on the steps in front of the Chamber of Commerce building, across the alley from the blind man's apartment, and heard Mrs. Creason deny something her husband had charged her with.

"I looked up," said Mason, "and saw Creason had his arm around his wife, and with his right hand he fired one shot into her breast. She either fell out of the window or he pushed her out. I am not sure which, while he continued shooting toward the ground."

Charles Huggins, a relative of Mason, who was also named by Creason as one of his wife's acquaintances, told the same story. It was announced today that Attorneys John R. Cooper and W. O. Cooper have been retained to represent Creason.

Blind Wife Slayer Is Ordered Held On Murder Charge

Macon, Ga., June 28.—(Special.)—The coroner's jury which today investigated the killing of Mrs. C. G. Creason by her blind husband ordered Creason held on a charge of murder, and Coroner Lee Wages issued a warrant making that charge. Creason is now in the Bibb county jail.

Dan Mason, one of the men whom Creason charged with breaking up his home, told the coroner's jury he witnessed the killing. He said he was seated on the steps in front of the Chamber of Commerce building, across the alley from the blind man's apartment, and heard Mrs. Creason deny something her husband had charged her with.

"I looked up," said Mason, "and saw Creason had his arm around his wife, and with his right hand he fired one shot into her breast. She either fell out of the window or he pushed her out. I am not sure which, while he continued shooting toward the ground."

Charles Huggins, a relative of Mason, who was also named by Creason as one of his wife's acquaintances, told the same story. It was announced today that Attorneys John R. Cooper and W. O. Cooper have been retained to represent Creason.

Freddie Boorde Meets Tony D'Oro In Holiday Show

Tony D'Oro, featherweight champion of Panama, and one of the latest logical contenders for Pete Herman's title belt, has been signed to meet Freddie Boorde, the Indian flash, in the Nashville holiday show July 5, according to announcement by Nashville fight promoters. Boorde and D'Oro are scheduled for the headline mixup of aces fight billed by the promoters for the big independence day fighting card. Freddie fought his last bout with Willie Colona, of St. Louis, for a eight-frame draw, with a badly sprained right hand. Walk Miller states the hand is rapidly improving and will be in shape for Freddie to begin active training for the holiday card this week. Freddie has been staging some lively fights in the Nashville ring, and is a big favorite of the Nashville audience. From all indications, D'Oro will be the toughest proposition that Freddie has tackled in these parts in some time.

D'Oro has been in this country only a short time, but during his stay he has added a number of victories over strong featherweights. He has defeated Benny Valgar, the French flash, in ten rounds in New York; Artie O'Leary, ten rounds in New York; Billy Hines, six rounds in Philadelphia; Frankie Rice, twelve rounds in Baltimore; Eddie O'Keefe, six rounds at Philadelphia; Mickey Devine, ten rounds at Providence; Jimmy Dougherty, fifteen rounds at Providence; Chick Hayes, ten rounds at Philadelphia, and other feathers of less note.

Turning wheels bring numbers into view in a new card for two golf players.

MEEGHAN IS K. O'D IN FIFTH ROUND

Meeghan showed up well in his in-fighting again last night; Stanley always shows to good advantage in this feature, but he appeared to lack any great amount of steam behind his punches. He landed several good ones when the scrapping was free to toe, and we might state here that most of the battling was done at that range. This carries a hint that Meeghan landed through-out the battle, and that is just the impression we desire to leave. Meeghan did land good blows in every round of the fight, his last coming just a second before he was floored for the first time, a right hook to the jaw sending him to the canvas.

Meeghan's downfall came like a bolt from the blue. He was being worsted in the round, but few of the fans looked for the knockout at that particular instant. The boys were fighting in the middle of the ring, when Stanley sought a clinch and caught a hook on the ear, going down for two seconds. Up like a flash, he attempted to keep out of danger by backing toward his corner, but he never reached that point. Forced to the ropes by Morris, Stanley sought to ward off the blows and then dropped his guard. Blow after blow went to his chin, and on the sixth, hurried toward the ropes. Meeghan made one effort to reach the ring and then wilted, McDonald tolling his doom.

Concealed Power.
Most of Morris' strength is concealed, and the wallow that he keeps tucked away somewhere in the one that does all the damage. Morris starts like a dabbler and ends like a champion. After the first round he always looks to be on the verge of a knockout; by the end of the second round the spectators begin to take an interest in the fray, and when the third round around Sammy has them on their numerous and justly famed toes. Morris' generalship befuddled Battling Barnett, Meeghan's stablemate, last Wednesday night, and the same feature played havoc with Stanley's record last night. After the end of the first round Meeghan was instructed to go after a knockout, and during several perilous seconds it appeared that he would come across.

We know how that Morris was never hurt to any great extent. He has that unusual faculty in a batter of his weight of assimilating worlds of punishment; in fact, we've come to the conclusion that Sammy thrives on a maximum amount of the stuff. We believe he looks like a dabbler during the first rounds for effect, and it can't be denied that he unloaded a terrible surprise on young Meeghan when the third round rolled around.

Demetral O. W. O. L.

Young Demetral, the Ansonian Greek, who was reported as being hot on the trail of Jack Wilson, athletic director of the Atlanta Community Service, and the Gate City's favorite, failed to show up after Promoter McDonald had wasted several dollars in transportation, and two opponents were furnished Mr. Wilson. He sought to pin both in thirty minutes, and he accomplished the feat by knocking out the Greek in the first round, and followed with Chick Williams in 13. Jack expressed a willingness to meet the Greek at any time, and large attendance is expected.

Mr. McDonald agreed to arrange an engagement, stipulating, however, that he was going to insist that Demetral post a forfeit.

In the opening match, Billy Hooper, of the University of Georgia, gained a decision over Silent Happy, one of his ancient opponents, in a six-round affair. Happy did most of the battling in the opening frames, but Billy made up for lost time in the last two rounds, sending his dusky foe to the canvas in the sixth for the only knockdown of the match.

The crowd was a good one, and a large number of ladies appeared to enjoy the matches hugely.

HOW FREE SPEECH WAS SUPPRESSED DURING THE WAR

Chicago, June 28.—Denouncing the "suppression of free speech" during the war, Professor Stanley I. Rybinski, of the University of Chicago, told the Cook county committee of 48 at the convention last night that even the mail of cabinet assistants was not safe from scrutiny by the military intelligence section.

Rybinski, who served in the intelligence bureau, declared he had seen the mail of Breckinridge Long, the third assistant secretary of state, because he had happened to be in correspondence with a conscientious objector.

"I opened it," he added, "because the men who ordered me to do it had bayonets at their backs and I had to obey."

CURB MARKET TO OPEN AGAIN THIS MORNING

The municipal curb market opens today for the second time and the result of the traffic between the farmers and the public at the corner of Courtland and Glimmer streets this morning will have a large influence on the rate of the market as a permanent institution. A large attendance is expected.

Ramblers Win Two From Smyrna And McPherson

The Ramblers rambled up to Smyrna last Saturday and defeated that aggregation by the score of 11 to 8, it requiring ten innings to decide the winner. Smyrna scored six runs in the first stanza, but the Ramblers soon got their bearings and overcame the lead, winning out in the tenth. Both clubs used two pitchers during the fray. Winburn, the crack right-hander of the Ramblers, went into the box with a six-run handicap, and pitched sterling ball, holding Smyrna to four scattered hits and two runs. Shumate pitched good ball for the losers until the sixth, when he was relieved by Hasty with the score tied. The batteries were: Ramblers, Jones, Winburn and Cheek; Smyrna, Shumate, Hasty and Berry.

The Ramblers defeated the team that upholds the baseball honors for Fort McPherson Sunday afternoon by overcoming a five-run lead by some timely hitting and base running. Jones, who started the game for the Ramblers, was relieved in the second inning by Winburn, the Ramblers' pitching ace, and the soldiers never had a look-in after the first inning. Winburn holding them well in hand, allowing six scattered hits. The hitting honors of the afternoon go to J. Gaston, Green McDewitt and Jones for the Ramblers, and Allen and Riley for the losers. The feature of the game was the twirling of Winburn for the Ramblers, making his second victory in two days.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Ramblers... 004 101 700—12 14 0. Ft. McPherson... 410 000 003—8 12 0.

Batteries—Ramblers, Jones, Winburn and Cheek; Fort McPherson, Willis, Wadley and Keating.

Emory Theologs Beat Academy Team in Opener

Emory University, Ga., June 28.—(Special.)—The Theologs defeated the Liberal Arts team here this afternoon in the most interesting game of the season. The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of each team, and this made the game interesting, despite the fact that many errors were made by each team. Stokes, the catcher for the Liberal Arts team, was the batting star, getting four hits out of as many times to the bat, one of which was a home run.

On account of the small number of men who are interested in baseball at Emory, the game was able to put out only one team this summer, and the playing will necessarily be between the Theologs and the Liberal Arts.

At the present the Theolog team is the strongest, due to the fact that most of their old players are here. While the Liberal Arts team is composed almost entirely of new men, but with some good work-outs they should be able to turn out a winning team.

Batteries: Beasley, Crane and Strickland for the Theologs; Umpires, Hawkins and Tinnon.

Georgia State League.

Cedartown Wins in Twelfth.
Cedartown, Ga., June 28.—(Special.)—Cedartown and Lindale battled in a close game, with Cedartown finally losing out by the score of 4 to 3. Johnson scored, and the game was tied in the fourth, when a single and a triple and a sacrifice fly scored two runs for Cedartown, and Boone scored on the hitting stars, each getting four out of six. Boone's double and Kelton's single broke up the game in the tenth.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Cedartown... 000 010 000—3 7 3. Lindale... 010 001 100 001—1 8 3.

Batteries—Cedartown, Johnson and Nunn; Lindale, Schmidt and Jones.

Summary.—Two-base hits, Boone 3; three-base hits, Tolbert, Mitchell; errors, Mitchell, Ennis, Hunter, Tolbert, Kelton; double plays, Johnson to Tolbert to Kelton; innings pitched, by Cedartown 12, by Johnson 12; struck out, by Durham 5, by Johnson 2; bases on balls, off Durham 12, off Johnson 3; sacrifice hits, Schmidt, Durham; stolen bases, Herndon, Suggs.

Cellarists Win.
Carrollton, Ga., June 28.—(Special.)—LaGrange took the first game of the series 5 to 1. Boone's pitching featured, as he was invincible in the pinches. Henderson batted, but allowed LaGrange to bunch their hits for scores. Chitman and Thraasher struck at bat with three out of four each.

Score by innings: R. H. E. LaGrange... 000 003 011—5 12 1. Carrollton... 000 100 000—1 8 3.

GEORGIANS STARTED BIG DEMONSTRATION

strains of "America." A great shout went up. When it was unrolled from the ceiling and the audience caught the full view of the giant oil painting of President Wilson resting against the background of the great pipe organ in the rear of the rostrum, the huge audience went wild.

P. A. Stovall, of Savannah, and Hollins Randolph, of Atlanta, jumped to their feet with the Georgia standard, with a rousing cheer for "Woodrow Wilson." As if by magic, the convention was swept by the roar of voices and ten thousand men and women, in the pit and in the galleries, arose to cheer, to toss hats and flags and banners in the air, and joined in one of the most memorable demonstrations of popular love and esteem ever witnessed in the country.

Standards of every state were stacked as the delegate hosts paraded around. This tribute to President Wilson and to the policies of the democratic administration created one of the outstanding features so far developed by the national convention. It illustrates, beyond peradventure of doubt, that anti-administration sentiment, accentuated in Georgia and some other sections by peculiar and unfortunate conditions of party insurrection, is but a negligible quantity in the nation as a whole, and that whatever may have heretofore been the personal following of William J. Bryan or any other present-day administration enemy, the democratic national convention of 1920, voicing the sentiment of democracy in every nook and corner of this great country, is overwhelmingly and unmistakably pro-administration.

The next outstanding feature of the opening day was the masterful and well received keynote address of Temporary Chairman Homer S. Cummings, of Connecticut. As outlined in advance in these dispatches the address, delivered with a force of sincerity that at once impressed itself upon the whole convention, was an uncompromising portrayal of democracy's record, a tribute to the leadership of the party's chief, a powerful denunciation of the principles of a world leadership of the party's desire for peace and an aggressive denunciation of the republican party for its reactionary ticket, its meaningless platform and its hypocritical but do-nothing congressional record.

It is seldom that a keynote party address has been more logical or more unanswerable, and sweeping the convention with enthusiasm as it did, it easily placed Homer Cummings in the gallery of dark horses from which a candidate for president may yet be chosen.

As to the future of this convention two things are clear. First, that the nominees will be uncompromising advocates of the administration, and second, that the platform will carry the Virginia plank on the league to the defense of the Bryan-Walsh wing that seems to commit the party to compromise on this vital and paramount issue.

As to the nominees there is little change in the situation except that William G. McDougal is looming more strongly as a presidential candidate and altogether without his onsets. The two leaders, Palmer and Adoo, continue in their positions,

Answering Call For Help Mitchell Rescues Mother

Forrest A. Mitchell, of the firm of Mitchell Bros., of this city, encountered enough thrills while motor touring on Monday, a couple of days ago, to fill a big narrative reel.

Called upon for help by an excited young man, as he motored across the covered bridge over Nicajack creek, Mitchell found two women and three children tugging at a chain to prevent a Ford car from turning topsy-turvy down a 40-foot embankment. The car had over- and was swinging in a balance, its top overhanging a deep pool of mud and water.

"There is a woman on the top of that car," shouted one of the tugging women, "and she can't get out." Mitchell went up to his waist, crawled around the car to begin the work of rescuing the imprisoned woman. It was as he here he received the greatest shock and surprise of his life. For in the top of the car, apparently unharmed but unable to make a move to extricate herself, was his mother.

"Seemed almost like a year," said Mr. Mitchell, Monday, in speaking of his thrilling experience, "before I could get up to the car and get my mother out of her terribly dangerous position. One more slight turn, and the car would have rolled down to the bottom of the rugged and muddy embankment, which would have meant instant death to my mother."

Mrs. Mitchell is the wife of Rev. H. G. Mitchell, a Baptist minister, of the Collins Primitive Baptist church, out a few miles from Smyrna. She is nearly seventy years of age, partially paralyzed—so much so that she is unable to assist to herself in the auto wreck, which she was caught. Her son, Forrest, with his family, had motored up Sunday to spend a few hours with them at their home on the Concord road near by.

Left the home of his parents, on his way back to the city, he drove off with a side road near the Nicajack bridge, passing over the steep embankment over which the son had been rescued. The car "choked" down going up a steep hill. When the minister stepped out to crank it, the brakes slipped off and the car started back down the incline at a rapid rate. The elder gentleman managed to overtake it sufficiently to grab the reins and hold it just at that time it had reached the dangerous embankment and toppled over the side. The car fell down the incline, but not injuring him. The car swung for a time almost mid-air with Mrs. Mitchell hanging in its top, and the ladies and children referred to above rushed down and secured a chain and fastened it to the wheels and were holding it in that position when the son, Forrest, came driving down the road.

Mrs. Mitchell, when finally rescued by her son, and by a Mr. Marshall, seemed to realize the great danger to which she had been subjected.

with Davis and Marshall and now Cummins, all appear to advance in the almost certain event of a deadlock, it is unfortunately true that Palmer has sufficient delegates pledged to stand by him unflinchingly until the last to prevent the nomination of any man, and the same may be said of Cox. The latter is weakening, however, under the force of perhaps misguided onslaughts evoked by an unfortunate domestic affair. It is not certain, therefore, that either of the leaders can be nominated, and therefore Palmer, clean cut and unspotted, has the advantage of holding the vote.

Battle in Committees.

Summed up in a nutshell, the minority side against the president is not rising but ebbing. The committee rooms will be the real battle grounds. The platform will be as progressive and as practical as a sit can consistently be made to coincide with administration policies.

The three issues that will precipitate the committee fireworks will be the league, the wet and dry, and the Irish questions, on all of which the administration policy will be finally upheld—namely, for the league with interpretations, but not nullifying reservations; the omission of any prohibition plank, and the mention of Irish independence in connection with the league of nations.

YOU NEVER CAN TAME A WILD-CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury! Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crumbles into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you pale, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow. Besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—(Adv.)

BALLOTING TO WAIT FOR THE PLATFORM

Auditorium, San Francisco, June 28.—The committee on rules for the convention elected Thomas J. Spaulding, of Connecticut, chairman, and immediately took up the question of whether the convention should proceed to the nomination of a ticket at before adopting a party platform. It was suggested that this be done in order to expedite the proceedings of the convention, as it was generally understood that the drafting of the platform would take some time.

After a general discussion the rules committee adopted a resolution offering a former Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, providing that speeches nominating presidential candidates shall be made before the presentation of the platform, but that the balloting for the candidates shall not take place until the platform has been adopted.

A motion to nominate in advance of the action on the platform was voted down.

DECATUR CITIZENS PUSHING CAMPAIGN FOR BOND ISSUE

Decatur, Ga., June 28.—(Special.)—Stirring addresses by two of the most prominent citizens of Decatur and the formulation of plans for winning votes for the proposed bond issue for municipal improvements if the town were made last night at the mass meeting held by the courthouse.

The principal address was made by Dr. Andrew Sledge, one of the members of the board of education of the town, who discoursed at length on the subject of the importance of voting. Another forceful speech was made by Robert C. W. Ramspeck, chairman of the citizens' committee at the first ward.

The vote will be taken on this measure on June 30. The bond issue will be for $150,000, of which $100,000 will be used for high school purposes and the remainder for extension of waterworks.
